

Supreme handles your roster. DuesSync handles everything else.

A council runs on its people — members who stay active, brothers ready to lead, and a handoff that keeps everything. DuesSync keeps your council engaged, led, and continuous — automating dues is just the easiest place to start.

WHAT WE HEAR FROM COUNCILS, OVER AND OVER

Councils quietly lose three things: people, knowledge, and time*

01

Losing members

Attendance drifts and the same few brothers carry everything. Between meetings there's no simple way to keep members connected — a birthday note, an event reminder, a milestone celebrated — so engagement quietly fades.

02

Losing the playbook

Budget, history, contacts, how things are done — it lives in one officer's head and one spreadsheet. When they step down it walks out the door, and the council resets. No succession plan, no memory.

03

Losing hours

Chasing 2nd Notices and Knight Alerts, stuffing envelopes, chasing checks at meetings, re-typing data between Supreme, Excel, and email. Hours a month on work a system should just do.

Grand Knights add a fourth: knowing whether the council is on track for Star and the Columbian Award — and exactly what's still missing — without tallying it by hand.

* Based on what officers told us in the DuesSync surveys (FS, Grand Knights, Treasurers).

HOW IT FITS TOGETHER

Supreme keeps the record. DuesSync runs everything else. Built on it — you never replace it.

WHY COUNCILS SWITCH

Built for continuity — and we're just getting started

The role survives the person

Budget, history, contacts, and compliance live in one place. Hand off the role and your successor inherits a working council — full history and data preserved, not a mystery spreadsheet.

More than dues — and building fast

New tools ship every month. In 2026 we're working to reach every council in the United States — and Founding Councils help decide what comes next.

Two minutes now. A free year ahead.

1

Take the free officer survey

7–10 minutes, built for your role — Financial Secretary, Grand Knight, or Treasurer. Every answer shapes what we build next.
